

STYLE

Architects and Designers Pick Their Favorite New Furniture

By JULIE LASKY OCT. 4, 2016

Every year, American home-furnishing stores sell more than $40 billion of merchandise, with products chased on and off the floor by changing fashions and technology. Tracking the abundance is more than any set of eyes can manage. So we asked 30 interior designers and architects to recommend their favorite recent products in a variety of categories. The choices add up to a look book of some of the most imaginative designs out there.

Continue following our fashion and lifestyle coverage on Facebook (Styles and Modern Love), Twitter (Styles, Fashion and Weddings) and Instagram.

A version of this article appears in print on October 6, 2016, on page F10 of the New York edition with the headline: Architects and Designers Pick Some Current Favorites.

A Furniture Look Book

Pli side table,
$1,680. Amy Lau, who is drawn to the often-imperceptible border between art and design, picked Victoria Wilmotte's sculptural table for Classicon. The iridescent finish enhanced by the faceted surface "is a visual symphony for the eyes," said Ms. Lau, a New York interior designer.

A Furniture Look Book

Shaping table, about $5,257. Ms. Lau picked a glass table by Germans Ermičs, a Dutch designer, because “the color is not just decorative, it is the essence of the piece.”