Lighting the Way

With the shorter days and longer nights that come with fall, take the time to transform your space and elevate your mood with the right light. Now it is possible to save energy and still experience a high quality of light. Make the switch from inefficient bulbs to higher efficiency LED lighting throughout your home and see all that Philips AmbientLED bulbs can do.

What's Possible—and Practical

ILLUMINATING IDEAS

Shine the spotlight on your book collection using track lighting or adjustable recessed lights. LED bulbs cast a warm glow and will not fade book covers or spines. For the best illumination, position the light to shine two-thirds of the way down the shelf.

SMARTER STORAGE

When organizing your bookshelves, arrange books together by size. Smaller books should go on higher shelves, larger books on the bottom and of course, the books you consult most often should be kept in the middle where they are the easiest to reach. Resist the urge to pack books in too tightly, and leave space for personal accessories that have special meaning to you.

Experience Energy Efficiency and Elegant Design

Philips AmbientLED lighting can improve ambience and energy-efficiency in your home while delivering performance you can count on. Designed in traditional bulb shapes and to fit easily into existing fixtures, Philips AmbientLED bulbs provide high-quality white light.

Switching to higher efficiency LED lighting can help reduce your electric bill, preserve our environment, and create the perfect lighting for your home. Find out more at philips.com/beautifullight.
